OSHA Data Information Services (ODIS) is a premier compiler of consumer and business information that specializes in sourcing public records from federal, state, county, municipal and international governments. Its experience with the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and equivalent state and international open public records laws, along with long standing relationships with government agencies, offers efficiencies unavailable to those seeking to obtain government sourced data independently.

This file is made up of professionals who are responsible for working with hazardous waste materials. These professionals are required to stay abreast of the latest hazmat regulations and comply with these policies.

The file enables you to reach the managers from various companies dealing with waste storage, treatment and disposal who deal with these potentially dangerous discarded commercial chemical products, process wastes and wastewater.
